

Reporting Abuse in Defence

Reporting Form

Please complete this form if you are reporting experiences of abuse while employed in the Australian Defence Force (Defence) to the Defence Force Ombudsman, which you want to be assessed under the Ombudsman Regulations 2017 (the Regulations).¹ Abuse is defined in the Regulations to mean: sexual abuse; serious physical abuse; and serious bullying and harassment.

Reports of abuse can be made by, and on behalf of,² serving and former members of Defence. Reports can also be made by Australian Public Service employees or contractors who have been deployed overseas in connection with Defence activities.

We understand that taking this step to report incidents of abuse is difficult, and recalling experiences of abuse can be distressing. If you need help to make your report of abuse, or if you have any questions about the form or need assistance to complete this form, please contact our Liaison team by calling 1300 395 776 or by email at defenceforce.ombudsman@ombudsman.gov.au. We will work with you to support you through the reporting and assessment processes.

Our Office may recommend that Defence make a reparation payment in relation to a report of serious abuse, which has been accepted, if you contact the Office on or before 30 June 2022 and either:

- Submit a report of abuse you experienced in Defence; or
- Provide written notification that you intend to lodge a report of abuse, which you must then provide by 30 June 2023.

If you do not submit your report of abuse or an intention to report abuse by 30 June 2022, you cannot receive a reparation payment.

If you provide a written intention to report abuse, you must submit your report by 30 June 2023 or you will not be able to receive a reparation payment.

Importantly, to be eligible for a reparation payment, the report of abuse must also be about abuse allegedly engaged in by a member of Defence on or before 30 June 2014.

There are two possible payments which we may recommend:

- a payment of up to $45,000 to acknowledge the most serious forms of abuse

¹ For more information, see our factsheets and FAQs on our website at <http://www.ombudsman.gov.au/How-we-can-help/australian-defence-force/reporting-abuse-in-defence>

² You can nominate an authorised representative to act on your behalf, this may be, for example, a family member or advocate. This requires you to complete the Permission for another person to act on my behalf form on page 6.

- a payment of up to $20,000 to acknowledge other abuse involving unlawful interference accompanied by some element of indecency.

If we recommend one of these payments, an additional payment of $5,000 may also be recommended if we are satisfied that Defence did not respond appropriately to the incident of abuse.

The above payments may be reduced if a reportee has already received a reparation payment relating to abuse in Defence, such as from the Defence Abuse Response Taskforce.

This form is ready to be submitted when:

- you have attached one copy of certified identification
- you have answered all of the questions on the reporting abuse form
- you have signed the statutory declaration and had it witnessed
- you have attached any relevant supporting material (if applicable)
- you have attached the signed 'on behalf of authority' form (if applicable)

Once you have completed this form, you can submit it to us by:

- a. email to: defenceforce.ombudsman@ombudsman.gov.au or;
- b. post to: Defence Force Ombudsman, GPO Box 442 Canberra ACT 2601

Further information about reporting abuse in Defence is available on our website at: <http://www.ombudsman.gov.au/How-we-can-help/australian-defence-force/reporting-abuse-in-defence>.

What happens next?

You will be assigned an Ombudsman Liaison Officer, who will remain your dedicated point of contact through your engagement with our office. You will be contacted if any clarification or further information is required for assessment. You can choose to put your assessment on hold, or withdraw it, at any time in the process – just let us know if you change your mind after submitting this report.

Use and disclosure of personal information

Personal information of people who contact the Defence Force Ombudsman is treated as confidential and is managed in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).

Personal information is information about an individual whose identity is apparent or can reasonably be discovered.

The Defence Force Ombudsman Privacy Policy provides further detail about how your personal information will be collected and used.

The Commonwealth Ombudsman, as part of its Defence Force Ombudsman jurisdiction, can receive and assess reports of abuse in Defence. The Office of the Commonwealth Ombudsman is an entity under the Privacy Act 1988 and is subject to the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs). The APPs set out standards, rights and obligations for APP entities in relation to handling, holding, accessing and correcting personal information.

Personal information that the Ombudsman collects and holds, and the purpose of collection

In relation to reports of abuse, the Ombudsman collects personal information where it is relevant to discharging our obligations under the Ombudsman Regulations 2017.

This personal information may include the name, address, contact details, date of birth, gender, occupation, employment history, family background and financial records of individuals who have reported serious abuse in Defence to the Ombudsman. It may also include information about alleged abusers and other third parties, such as witnesses to the abuse or individuals to whom the abuse was reported.

The information which the Ombudsman collects and holds includes some types of sensitive information (which is a subset of personal information). This may include sensitive information about an individual's racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, membership of a political association, religious beliefs or affiliations, philosophical beliefs, membership of a professional or trade association, membership of a trade union, sexual orientation or practices, criminal record or physical or mental health.

How the Ombudsman collects personal information

At all times the Ombudsman tries to only collect the information needed for the particular function or activity we are carrying out under the Regulations. Where it is reasonably practicable to do so, we collect this information directly from the individual concerned.

People who make reports to the Ombudsman provide us with personal information to enable us to assess their report of abuse and take appropriate action in accordance with the Regulations. In appropriate circumstances, personal information may be collected indirectly or from other sources, such as the Department of Defence, the Department of Veterans' Affairs or from public records.

Anonymity

Where possible, the Ombudsman allows individuals to interact with us anonymously or to use a pseudonym. However, for most of our functions and activities associated with assessing and responding to reports, we will need an individual's name, contact information and enough information about them to enable us to fairly and efficiently handle their report.

How the Ombudsman holds personal information

The Ombudsman uses a range of physical and electronic security measures to protect personal information from misuse and loss, and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure. These measures include restricted physical access to our offices, security containers, firewalls, secure databases, computer-user identifiers and passwords.

The requirements of the Archives Act 1983 relating to Commonwealth records (including the disposal, alteration and destruction of such records) apply to Ombudsman records, including personal information held by the Ombudsman. The National Archives of Australia has imposed a disposal freeze on Commonwealth records potentially related to allegations, handling and consequences of sexual and other forms of abuse in Defence. Further information regarding the disposal freeze is available at the Archives website: http://www.naa.gov.au/Images/Disposal-Freeze-Defence-R1153352012_tcm16-95250.pdf

Certification of documents

A certified copy of a document is a copy (often a photocopy) of a primary document that has on it an endorsement or certificate that it is a true copy of the primary document.

- Who can certify a copy?

The same person who is eligible to witness you signing a statutory declaration can certify documents.

- How are copies certified?

Before certifying a document, the certifier must ensure the copy is an identical copy of the original. Suggested wording for the certification is as follows:

I certify that this is a true copy of the document sighted by me on [dd/mm/yyyy] Signature Name Qualification (eg. JP, Pharmacist)

Commonwealth statutory declaration form

A statutory declaration is a written statement which you sign and declare to be true before an authorised witness.

- Authorised witnesses

Common examples of an authorised witness include a Justice of the Peace, police officer, certain people working in banks and staff at courthouses. Police stations often have a Justice of the Peace available at certain times.

- False information

If you intentionally make a false statement in a statutory declaration you can be charged with a criminal offence which carries the possibility of up to four years imprisonment.

If you would like further information about statutory declarations, please contact our Liaison team on our dedicated number 1300 395 776, or visit <https://www.ag.gov.au/Publications/Statutory-declarations/Pages/Frequently-asked-questions.aspx>.

CONSENT FORM

In this form we seek your consent for the Defence Force Ombudsman and other agencies, persons or bodies, to collect and disclose your personal information for the purposes of responding to your report.

The Ombudsman requires your consent to approach Defence to confirm your record of service and to obtain other information relevant to the report. All of your personal information will be kept confidential by Defence.

Personal information will only be shared if it is necessary and any information shared will be limited to relevant information. If you have any concerns about providing us with consent please ring 1300 395 776 to discuss them with an Ombudsman Liaison Officer.

I agree and provide my consent to:

- My name, a description of the abuse I experienced, and any other personal information I have provided, being provided to Defence for the purposes of it being able to provide information relevant to my matter.
- My relevant personal information held by any body, person or agency (such as Defence) being provided for the work of the Ombudsman in facilitating an appropriate response to my communications.
- Any organisation, department, doctor, health professional, hospital or other health institution or rehabilitation provider, providing the Ombudsman with copies of any reports, or other relevant documentation, in relation to any treatment provided to me arising from any incident or injury suffered by me in connection with my service with the Australian Defence Force or Department of Defence.
